

Hummingbird

Can be done in colored pencil or watercolor.

Drawing

Sketch the outline of the birds body and super lightly draw a few lines of the wing feathers. Remember they move so fast you can barely see the feathers when they fly.

The colored feathers look like fish scales. You can finish the rest of the scales when you go to color.

The scale feathers are little dabs of curved shaped color overlapping light and dark with brighter colors on the top.

Fill in the feathers with blurry light strokes of paint or pencil.
